

In the midst of all this snow and ice, we love to think of mid-July: specifically of a beautiful beach with dazzling white tents, the tempting aromas of New England's favorite foods, and hundreds of friends gathering to officially open another summer. You've probably guessed that we are speaking of the South Coast's premier fundraising event of the year, the Lloyd Center's Clambake ("Simply, the best!"), held annually by the seaside at Demarest Lloyd State Park in Dartmouth.

Please join us in supporting the Lloyd Center's highly regarded work to protect the nature of our beautiful coast and to bring first-rate environmental science classes to some 15,000 children in our area's public schools.

Clambake XXIV ("Simply, the best!"), in keeping with tradition, will mark the start of the summer season for many year-round and seasonal residents. Its exceptionally favorable demographics have made it the smart choice for businesses seeking to raise their profiles in this high-potential market (see listing on other side).

We invite you to come and enjoy a very special evening of cocktails, dinner and dancing (and a great silent auction) with your valued business associates, prospective customers and close friends. We thank you in advance for your decision to be a part of a cause as important as this one!

You may use the FAX IT BACK form (enclosed) to hold your table. Space is limited and the event traditionally sells out every year, so don't put this off!

Please don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions. See you there!

Respectfully,

Randall T. Weeks, Jr.
